

We will be the rain

Written by Gabriel Saalfield and Michael Saalfield, The Royce Twins.

I hate that I must leave to keep you safe
You know when I'm on the line and only your picture I can take
The pace that I will run to see your face
Time won't stop for me
I can't escape my written fate

And if we're lost, not found, like my, brothers before me
Heaven will gather the clouds and set us free

And we will be the rain on your tin roof, falling from above
And we will be the light you're passing through, connecting me to you

I got your letter written with a shaky hand
Telling me about our girls, and how they're old enough to stand
I'm not the man I was when I left
Coz I was hit but I got up
When brave friends were laid to rest

And if we're lost, not found, like my, brothers before me
Heaven will gather the clouds and set us free, yeah

We will be the rain on your tin roof, falling from above
And we will be the light you're passing through, connecting me to you

And if I find myself in a dark place, with bullets overhead
I'll stop to remember your face, without your love I'd be dead
So we will be the rain on your tin roof
And I give my life for you

You hear footsteps on the driveway, is it a dream or is it truth?
Coz if I die I'll do it my way, after I spend my life with you

And we will hear the rain on our tin roof, while I'm lying next to you
And we will feel the light we're passing through, connecting me to you

And if I find myself in a dark in place, with bullets overhead
I'll stop to remember your face, without your love I'd be dead
So we will hear the rain on our tin roof
And I owe my life to you
And I give my life for you.

We will be the rain
